Sparkling conversations on key social issues in creative, interactive ways.

WHAT WE DO

Red Balloon offers a collection of easy to lead creative sessions for teachers to facilitate in their online (or physical) classrooms on various social issues with adolescents (12-15 years).

The material has been designed to bring attention to key social topics in an interactive manner & to encourage children to engage meaningfully and self-reflect along the way.

HOW WE DO IT

- Online video training sessions for teachers where we will take the educators through different topics, share tips on how best to facilitate creative sessions and lead an effective dialogue on social impact.
- Red Balloon facilitators are also available to lead these sessions directly for students.

Following topics are chosen to instil a feeling of positivity and hope in young people:

Emotional Awareness

Gratitude

Sensitisation towards physically disabled

It was lovely. Many things we take for granted in our daily lives, which we realise when we attend such workshops.
